Clergy, Congressmen Flay Ruling On School Prayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Supreme Court ruling striking down the saying of official prayers in public schools has stirred a cauldron of criticism from churchmen and members of Congress.

Many of them asked, "How far does it go?"

"The next thing you know, they'll be telling us we can't open our daily House sessions with prayer," said Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va. A Jewish leader, who hailed the decision, felt it made clear that federal funds could not be used to aid parochial schools.

Specifically the court ruled Monday that it is a violation of the Constitution for New York State to authorize the saying of the following prayer in public schools: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon thee, and we beg thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

In a 6-1 decision the court said the First Amendment's ban against establishment of a religion means that "it is no part of the business of government to compose official prayers for any group of American people to recite as part of a religious program carried on by government."

The decision—written by Justice Hugo L. Black—likely will have broad impact.

Some states require public schools to begin each day with the Lord's Prayer. The wording of Black's opinion indicated these state laws also violate the First Amendment.

Wrote Black: "It is neither sacrilegious nor antireligious to say that each separate government in this country should stay out of the business of writing or sanctioning official prayers and leave that purely religious function to the people themselves and those the people choose to look to for religious guidance."

The only dissenter in the decision was Justice Potter Stewart who noted that the Supreme Court's own sessions are opened with the words "God save the United States and this honorable court," and that the House and Senate begin the day with prayers.

In the majority decision, Black noted parenthetically that there is nothing in the ruling "inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contains references to the deity or by singing officially espoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a supreme being or with the fact that there are many manifestations in our public life of belief in God."

While there were many expressions of protest, there were also voices raised in approval of the ruling.

Leo Pfeffer, general counsel of the American Jewish Congress, said he feels it was consistent with "that the Constitution requires an absolute separation of church and state and a secular public school system."

Pfeffer went further in his interpretation of the decision, saying that it "makes it clear that federal funds may not be used to finance parochial school education."

This was in reference to the administration's legislation for aid to public schools with parochial schools excluded.

Roman Catholic Church leaders have contended that church schools should also receive aid. President Kennedy has taken the position that it would be unconstitutional to grant aid to religious schools.

Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., a supporter of the Kennedy school aid bill — now bottled up in the House Rules Committee—said "I can see no analogy" between the prayer decision and the constitution.

Rusk, Home Don't Expect Chinese Attack

See Red Buildup As Warning Against Mainland Invasion

LONDON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home reportedly believe Red China's military buildup in Fukien Province does not foreshadow an attempt on the Nationalist-held offshore islands. They think it may be meant to silence Chiang Kai-shek's threats to invade the mainland.

Spokesmen said Rusk and Home reached this conclusion Monday in wide-ranging talks that paid much attention to the Communist buildup opposite the Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu, just off the Communist mainland.

In Peking, Red China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi charged that the Nationalists are preparing with U.S. help for a large-scale invasion of the Southeast China coast. The Communists continued to shell Quemoy and Matsu Monday night, lobbing 132 shells on Quemoy and 45 on Matsu.

The talks aligning British-American views on Communist threats and inter-Allied problems followed Rusk's meetings with President Charles de Gaulle in Paris and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn. Rusk's aides expressed belief his trip has helped clarify some misconceptions among chief allies of America over aspects of U.S. policy.

Start of Maneuvering Rusk's round of talks heralded the start of a period of intensive maneuvering between the Communists and the Western powers.

The three Western Allies sent notes to Moscow Monday calling on the Soviet Union to join four-power talks in Berlin to end violence along the Berlin wall and try to bring peace to the divided city.

Rusk and Home agreed to attend the signing next month of a 14-power pact being written at Geneva to guarantee the neutrality of Laos. If Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko also attends, it would provide an opportunity to confer anew on Berlin, disarmament, nuclear tests and other East-West problems.

Summing up the results of Rusk's trip so far, his aides said he had not come over to break up what has been called the Paris-Bonn axis because that would be against America's own interests.

He had not brought along any plan to help France's nuclear weapons program, but he gave assurances that America stands ready to help build up a multilateral European nuclear force dovetailed with American nuclear might.

Five States Hit By Power Failure

OMAHA (AP)—Strictly a mechanical failure.

That was the tag that Ralph Platts, chief mechanical and electrical engineer for the Army Engineers division office at Omaha, placed Monday night on the mid-west power failure Monday that affected parts of five states.

Platts said there could not have been a human error involved when eight units at Fort Randall Dam in South Dakota failed, dropping production by 200,000 kilowatts on the grid stretching out from the big power plant.

A Bureau of Reclamation spokesman at Watertown, S. D., said a protective relay—one that protects the system from overloads — failed thus causing overloads that opened transmission lines throughout the system.

This brought about a power loss in most of Nebraska, most of Iowa, southeast South Dakota, a small part of northern Kansas and at one point in Wisconsin.

OAS Terrorists Blow Up Oran Fuel Tanks

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — Raging fuel oil fires touched off by Secret Army Organization terrorists in Oran harbor still sent huge clouds of black smoke billowing over this western Algerian seaport today.

Terrorists blew up three British Petroleum Co. tanks late Monday and the burning oil quickly ignited seven other tanks in the dock area. Fed by an estimated 2.6 million gallons of gasoline, flames continued to shoot skyward today, but a threat to other dock front oil tanks and a military depot appeared over.

Overworked firemen poured tons of water on the undamaged oil tanks to keep the fire from spreading. Harbor traffic was paralyzed.

Thousands of Europeans turned out after daylight to witness the latest secret army effort to turn Oran into scorched earth before Moslems take over an independent Algeria.

Huge traffic jams formed on the waterfront boulevard 200 feet above the waterline. Many Europeans honked car horns in the five-beat French settler slogan "Al-ge-rie Fran-aise" (Algeria is French).

No one was reported injured in the fires. Secret army demolitionists warned away workers before touching off their plastic bombs. Shortly after the blasts, two ships filled with Europeans bound for France sailed out of the harbor, passing within 100 yards of the flames.

Thousands of Europeans made camp near Oran's La Senia Airport today, waiting for passage to France. The European exodus continued unabated five days before the Algerian self-determination certain to vote Algeria independent.

The secret army in Oran has ordered all Europeans to leave Algeria and destroy everything left behind. Many of those at the airport had come from towns and villages of the interior.

The terrorist command in Oran has refused to recognize a peace pact between secret army leaders in Algiers and the Moslems which has brought a measure of peace to most of Algeria.

Await Lifting Of Restraining Order By Federal Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Possible resumption of the flight engineers' strike against Pan American World Airways hinged on the outcome of a federal court hearing today.

Daniel Kornblum, counsel to the engineers' union, predicted that the U.S. District Court in New York would lift the temporary restraining order which ended the strike four hours after it started last Saturday. Kornblum called the ban clearly untenable under the law.

Ron A. Brown, president of the union, said that if the temporary order is lifted, Pan Am's 500 flight engineers will strike again immediately.

Today's hearing before Judge George Rosling was on whether a full-fledged injunction against a strike should be issued. Union counsel have been called upon to show cause why such an injunction should not be granted.

Rosling issued the temporary order Saturday on a plea by Pan Am. Rosling acted under terms of the National Railway Labor Act, which covers transportation.

Eastern Air Lines — struck Saturday at the same time as Pan Am—has been closed down since then by the walkout of its 575 flight engineers. A spokesman for Eastern said it did not see an order similar to that obtained by Pan Am because Eastern's position was "somewhat different." He did not elaborate.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said in Washington that negotiations of the AFL-CIO Flight Engineers International Association are deadlocked with both Pan Am and Eastern.

The issue is basically a fight by the engineers against losing jobs to pilots, who are members of the larger AFL-CIO Air Line Pilots Association. Jet airliner cockpit crews are soon to be reduced from four men to three, and the scrap is over who shall get the third seat in the cockpit along with two pilots.

Goldberg recessed the negotiations between Pan Am and the engineers Monday pending today's court hearing. Goldberg renews' union and Eastern indefinitely, subject to call, after an hour-long session.

N. E. Halaby, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, challenged the engineers' major claim that an engineer holding a powerplant mechanic's license is needed in a jet cockpit for the sake of safety.

Halaby referred to the tentative agreement that averted an en-

Serviceman Arrested for Killing Three

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—An Air Force sergeant who had failed in an attempt to persuade his estranged wife to return to him was held today in the fatal shooting of the young woman, her father and a family friend.

Detective Capt. Arthur F. Temme said Jimmy Ray Wilson, 29, admitted orally that he killed his wife, Walda, 27; her father, Walter Stocky, 49; and Ronald Birkhead, 29, at the Stocky home Monday night.

Stocky's wife, Stella, and the Wilsons' only child, Cindy, 7, were spared. Wilson was arrested a few minutes after the shooting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Estel Wilson, about two miles away.

Temme said Wilson, who was home on leave from an Air Force base at Warren, Mich., had been sued for divorce by Mrs. Wilson about two weeks ago and had tried to get her to return to him. Temme said Wilson considered Birkhead a rival for his wife's affections.

Stocky was killed by a shotgun blast as he emptied trash behind his house. Mrs. Wilson was felled near the door by two blasts, in the hand and the back. Birkhead was killed just outside the bathroom.

Temme said Wilson told officers he threw away the shotgun as he drove to his parents' home, but police were unable to find it.

Brain Technique Aids Shaking Palsy

CHICAGO (AP)—Freeze welding in the brain is halting the uncontrolled shaking and rigidity of muscles in shaking palsy.

Brain cells causing the trouble are frozen or welded with liquid nitrogen at a temperature of 150 degrees below zero. The nitrogen is forced down a narrow tube leading to the trouble spot.

The technique is painless, bloodless, and can stop the shaking in 85 per cent of properly selected patients, Dr. Irving S. Cooper of New York City said today.

The same method looks promising for destroying some brain tumors, but this work still is experimental, he told the American Medical Association's 111th annual convention. The tumors become frozen solid, and are left to shrivel away. This may permit surgery of tumors which cannot be reached otherwise, he said.

Dr. Cooper, of St. Barnabas Hospital for Chronic Diseases and New York University Medical Center, devised the freeze method within the last year for treating shaking palsy, or Parkinson's disease.

He uses a thin cannula consisting of an inner and outer tube, with a silver tip. This is inserted to reach the area where brain cells are firing off wild electrical signals.

Liquid nitrogen forced down the inside tube freezes the silver tip. As the nitrogen vaporizes, it escapes up through the outer tube.

Cooling the brain, for 30 seconds at 32 degrees gives time to test whether the silver tip is in the right place to halt the shaking. If it isn't, no harm is done, Cooper said. If it is correctly placed, then deep freezing for three to five minutes destroys the guilty area to halt the tremors and rigidity.

Some patients go home within four days after surgery. One man, 75, was home a week later with his shaking halted. "Many patients return to their old jobs," Dr. Cooper said.

The death risk is less than one per cent, Dr. Cooper said. The Public Health Service estimates there are 300,000 persons with Parkinson's disease, and 25,000 to 43,000 new cases annually.

Youth Faces Murder Counts

Admits Slaying Two Mansfield Girls

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — An 18-year-old Mansfield youth, who said "it made me mad" when two little girls screamed and tried to run away, was expected to appear in Municipal Court here today to face first-degree murder charges for the girls' slayings.

The youth, Jerrel Ray Howell, who was released from reform school four months ago where he had served time for a series of sex offenses, has admitted killing the two girls, police said.

The bodies of Jean Bertoch, 9, and Connie Lynn Hurrell, 7, were found Saturday night in a shallow pool below a spillway on a creek about a half-mile from their homes.

Police said Howell, a six-foot, 200-pounder, was picked up at his home about 1:30 a.m. Sunday. Police Chief Clare W. Kyler said Howell broke down and signed a confession at 6:30 that night.

Monday Howell took police to the scene and re-enacted the crime for two hours. He told police he became angry when the Bertoch girl refused to perform a sex act with him and began hitting and kicking the youngsters. Eventually, he said, he knocked them into the creek.

Police said Howell was the only suspect picked up for questioning. Richland County Coroner D. C. Lavender said his preliminary examination showed no evidence of a sexual attack.

In Cleveland, where the bodies were taken for autopsies, officials tentatively established that the girls "died as a result of violent

Declarations Due On City Income Tax

Saturday is the deadline for second quarter payments on 1962 city income tax declarations, Auditor Helen Coyne reminded today.

This deadline affects only those employees who do not have the city tax withheld by their employer.

The amount due Saturday is based on 1962 income estimates which had to be filed with the tax office prior to April 16. Quarterly payments on estimated income are payable on April 15, June 30, Sept. 30 and Dec. 31.

Some taxpayers paid the estimated 1962 tax in full at the time they filed their declarations, the auditor said.

Steel Firms Receive New Subpoenas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has demanded expense account and other information from steel company executives in continuing a probe into April's on-and-off steel price raise.

Informed sources said Monday subpoenas for information from some executives went out about three weeks ago in connection with department efforts to determine whether the price boost involved collusion.

The U.S. Steel Corp. said in New York that the government had subpoenaed telephone numbers and expense account information of some executives.

The Dow Jones business news service reported from Pittsburgh that similar records were subpoenaed from Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Wheeling Steel Corp. and that Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. was understood to have been served.

A grand jury investigation into steel prices was ordered April 12 by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy after seven companies announced $6-a-ton price increases. The inquiry continued after the hike was rescinded in the face of administration protests.

A Justice Department source said the subpoenas were part of the continuing inquiry and do not represent any new investigation. Kennedy declined comment.

The search into expense account information reportedly extends back to June 1961.

Alcoholics' Families Feel Both Great Love, Deep Hate

EDITOR'S NOTE—The tragedy of the alcoholic is not restricted to the one person who cannot control his thirst for a drink. A life shattered wrecks fearful damage on those close by. In this second in a five-part series, an Associated Press writer reports the new avenues of help being opened for the mates and children of alcoholics.

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Writer

How terrible it is to hate someone you should love; how hard it is to love someone who is so hateful.

Love and hate for the same person make a strange combination. But to the child or wife of an alcoholic, intermingling love and hate are familiar, twisting threads in painful, constant emotional crisis.

"I hated him, despised him," wished he'd die," admits the gentle-looking, gray-haired grandmother.

Her companions in Al-Anon nod in understanding. They, too, have suffered from an alcoholic mate.

"Sometimes I loved my father and mother, sometimes I hated them," says the 16-year-old beauty. "I hated them more than I loved them. I couldn't understand why they were doing this to me."

Her companions in Alateen—nine boys and nine other girls who have an alcoholic parent or parents—recognize her torture. Their feelings are important. They must be expressed—not in horror stories recounting the alcoholics' misdeeds—but in terms of their own reaction, their feeling.

By exploring these feelings, they hope to reach understanding.

Al-Anon and Alateen are adjuncts to Alcoholics Anonymous, the fellowship of alcoholics that is widely credited with doing inestimable work in helping persons with drinking problems. The only requirement for membership in AA is a desire to stop drinking. It is nonsectarian.

After more than 25 years of service, AA has a proven record: At least 300,000 persons who have stayed sober after long histories of problem drinking.

But while AA seeks to dry out the drunk and keep him sober, what about the other wreckage? There's plenty, for the alcoholic leaves in his wake debt and disorder, and pains that need long soothing. And he, too, needs something from those he's hurt: an understanding of what they may have done to make him the way he was, or to keep him from recovering.

Al-Anon grew informally from the AA group, its name is merely an enlarged abbreviation of Alcoholics Anonymous. Mates of alcoholics sometimes acted as unofficial hostesses at AA meetings, passing out soft drinks and coffee and cake. They began discussing mutual problems and eventually this turned into concrete soul-searching. Soon little groups were founded, usually wives but occasionally including the husband or a woman alcoholic, and an organization was formally incorporated in 1954. Now there are 2,000 Al-Anon groups in the U.S., Canada and 20 foreign countries. Members are not solely mates of those in AA. In a good many groups, the members are mates of drinking alcoholics.

Three years later, in 1957, Alateen arose. It specifically geared itself toward helping children of alcoholics and was started by a teen-ager in California. There are 200 such groups today.

The goal for both is the same: to lead them to sufficient understanding so that they can live with the alcoholic.

At an Alateen meeting in a New York suburb recently, a girl of 16 opened the meeting with the "serenity prayer":

"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference."

At an Al-Anon group, meeting on a Monday afternoon in the heart of Manhattan, a dozen women considered just one main question, based on the AA's Sixth Step. This asks whether the alcoholic is "entirely ready to have God remove" all the defects of character uncovered in "a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves."

CHARGED—James H. Vance, Jr., above, 18-year-old ex-Marine, leaves municipal court in Morris Township, N. J., after being charged with murder in the tire-iron slayings of two high school girls. Bodies of Margaret Ann Kennedy, 16 and Noreen Buckley, 17, were found in a lonely wooded area in Morris Township.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. has unveiled plans for a multi-million dollar research center to be built on a 30-acre site near the steel Boardman, south of here. Construction of the three-building center is expected to be completed by early 1964.

NEA Official Cites Teacher Ire With Work Conditions

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—Public school teachers are becoming increasingly impatient with what they call intolerable working conditions and in some circumstances, may feel forced to go on strike, an official of the National Education Association said today.

"Teacher strikes are deplorable, but so are the conditions that cause them," said T. M. Stinnett, assistant executive secretary of the NEA.

Stinnett said in an interview he does not approve of teacher strikes, but added: "In all probability we will continue to see such strikes in the years ahead because they are the last recourse to dramatize bad situations and move the public to action."

The strike in New York City last spring, he said, was the result of the total disillusionment of the city's teachers.

"It was an accumulation of intolerable conditions," Stinnett said "including politics, bureaucracy, obsolete and outmoded buildings and rotten equipment."

Stinnett is attending the annual conference of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, opening here tonight. He headed the commission for 10 years, until last August.

"If I read the signs correctly," he said, "teachers are going to be much more aggressive, much more militant in demanding better conditions of work so they can provide the services to children that the American public has a right to expect, and so they can do the professional job they have been trained to do."

"This doesn't mean that power tactics are inevitable. We need not have strikes, nor threats of strikes. Our problems can be solved by mutual recognition of the facts. We can work these things out through negotiations."

Savings, Loan Firms Hike Savings Interest

The announcement Monday night came as a surprise to most of the executives of the more than 40 other savings and loan firms in greater Cleveland who had hoped to hold the line at 4 per cent.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: When baking a pie shell I tear up a narrow strip of aluminum foil and cover the edges of the pie crust. When the shell bakes the edge will not burn at all, but it will still get brown. The foil should be removed immediately when removing it from the oven to avoid soggy.

I used to have trouble with the cork popping out of my thermos jug. My husband informed me that steamed cork (from holding it over the jug) dipped in a little sugar . . . holds the cork securely.

When traveling with our baby, we finally discovered an easy way to take along formula. Put it in the thermos jug while it is hot. When feeding time came, we just poured some milk into a sterilized baby bottle and let it cool a bit.

On short trips, we find it easier to heat the milk before leaving than it is to find warming facilities en route.

DEAR HELOISE:

I will pass on these kitchen savers.

Using two iced tea spoons is handiest when making drop cookies. The long handles never slip down into the bowl.

I make gelatine in a quart measure jar . . . no muss, no fuss, and it pours quite well into individual dishes.

I use boiled potato water in gravies for a finer flavor. After pouring off the water, place the saucepan over a low heat and shake the potatoes once or twice. This keeps them from sticking and they are ready to serve. They seem whiter and are dry and fluffy. I do this whether I serve them as is, or mash them. To mash them and keep them hot, add milk and butter, heat on low heat until butter is melted, then beat with electric mixer.

A cloth wrung out well in vinegar and water cuts grease and fingerprint on all table tops and armrests.

MRS. B.

DEAR HELOISE:

I find that if I have some doughnuts that are a couple of days old, they are made delicious if I put them in a pie pan in the oven at 350 degrees and let them heat for about five minutes. They are just like fresh-baked donuts.

Another thing that I find nice around the house is a bottle of mineral oil. If anyone has vines in their house that need a good cleaning . . . all they need to do is put the plants in their bathtub and turn on the shower (use cold water).

After the plants have had a good soaking, take a small piece of cotton and put mineral oil on the leaves. They will shine like new pennies.

Judge Calls Negro In Integration Bid Man With Mission

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—"A man with a mission and with a nervous stomach."

That's the way U.S. Circuit Judge John Minor Wisdom describes James H. Meredith, who has come closer than any Negro in cracking Mississippi's school segregation barrier.

Wisdom wrote the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals decision issued in New Orleans Monday which ordered U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize to issue an injunction forcing the white University of Mississippi to admit Meredith.

It took more than a year for Meredith to get the order. Mize, 74, an Ole Miss graduate, rejected his suit several times.

The soft-spoken Meredith, an Air Force veteran, is a small man with a thin mustache.

"I have no argument, fight or struggle with segregation," he said. "I seek only to find a common ground for settlement of our mutual problems. My relationship with whites goes no further."

Meredith described the appellate court decision as a good birthday present. He turned 29 Monday.

Meredith said his ambition is best described by Ole Miss registrar Robert B. Ellis, who once said: "This man has a mission in life to correct all the ills of the world."

Meredith is only six credit hours away from graduation at Jackson State (Negro) College. Ole Miss officials say he will lose half his credits by transferring to the university, must take a full year's course to graduate, and will lose G. Forster, died in Columbus Monday.

Leave Bad Enough Alone

The reason for House rejection of the Kennedy administration's farm bill must be as varied and complex as the agriculture program itself. But if the motives of the congressmen of both parties who voted against it can be summed up in a single sentence, it probably is this: Leave bad enough alone.

The defeat was described as stunning, not only because the bill's supporters were confident they had the votes to pass it but also because failure to pass any farm bill this session would be a radical break with tradition.

EVERY YEAR, through many administrations and many congresses, both the legislative and executive branches of the national government have deemed it absolutely necessary to try to do something about a program that has become one of our great national scandals.

Bitter controversy has surrounded every effort. No agriculture secretary has been safe from near-libelous denunciation from Capitol Hill and countryside. No president has escaped intense pressure to oust the man he selected to handle the hot potato.

The annual result of this controversy has been a succession of enactments that would come off the worse in a comparison with the hedgepodge of weeds that strangles a neglected garden patch. For this, Congress must accept a share of the blame for the scandal known as our farm program.

THE SAME situation arose this year. But the attempt to reach a compromise that would cull a majority of votes from the House compromised too much; even the sectional interests whose whims had been catered to in a series of amendments rejected the final product.

Khrushchev Needed Laos

Is it possible that a settlement in Laos which our government feels to be advantageous will be three times as advantageous to Premier Khrushchev? This is how it would work for the communist world's principal champion of co-existence.

He would point to Laos with its political stability built on a three-legged coalition as proof of his claim that communism now is too strong and sophisticated to depend on naked force.

He would point to a political settlement in a critically important part of the world as evidence that co-existence is superior to the clash of military force that nobody wants, least of all the Soviet Union because Chinese communists might have had to be "rescued" from a war they couldn't afford to win without Russian help.

He would explain to skeptics patiently what

Shake, Fellows!

In Ventiane, nine Laotians have piled more misery on the political back of the unhappy kingdom by refusing to take their oaths of office in the coalition cabinet because they do not recognize the authority of the National Assembly which confirmed their appointments.

In Washington, final action on congressional appropriations bills has been stalled because neither Sen. Carl Hayden nor Rep. Clarence Cannon recognizes the right of the other to sit as chairman of the House-Senate conference committee assigned to work out differences in the bills passed by the two chambers.

Even in high councils of state, boys will be boys.

Real Cool Cloud

By Ken McKenna

By all that's natural, a man with the first name of Cloud should have a job connected with weather.

Not being inclined to anything as scientific as meteorology, a Cloud with the last name of Wampler began his business career in investment banking, but late in life decided to switch to a field dedicated to the production of controlled weather—the air conditioning industry.

Cloud Wampler, at 67 remains convinced that air conditioning constitutes one of the world's great technical blessings. He is equally satisfied that his job offers a happy combination of a good salary and the opportunity to keep a perspiring populace comfortable.

But Mr. Wampler is quick to emphasize that temperature control means more than mere comfort. "Take chewing gum or cigarettes," he said the other day in a cooled hotel room. "I don't think I would be satisfied selling products like that."

"I like the air conditioning business because every time I sell something I make a contribution to people's comfort, their health or productivity," he said.

MR. WAMPLER settled back in his chair, an elegant white-haired gentleman with keen features relaxed into a quiet grin and as fine an advertisement for the benefits of air conditioning as Madison Avenue could hope for.

"I'm allergic to heat," he confided, fingering his collar. "I'm one of these people who sweat. In the last 20 years I don't think I've slept in a non-air-conditioned room more than a few times. And I've only had a few head colds."

The manufacturing executive, whose corporate titles are board chairman and chief executive officer, was lured out of the investment banking business in 1941.

"I left the investment banking business because it was no fun any more. And can you imagine an ex-investment banker in

Two other factors entered into this year's picture to contribute to the farm bill's death.

One was the fact that the administration, in its efforts to solve the extravagant surplus problem, sought still greater power to enforce acreage allotment and crop marketing regulations than the Agriculture Department has had before. This fatal approach dimmed the chances of congressional approval from the beginning, for nowhere are the evils of federal controls more evident than in the farm program.

THE OTHER special factor influencing debate this year is the Billie Sol Estes scandal, which has become a signal for what is wrong with the farm program. The Estes case is sensational in size and particulars, but few doubt it is the only case of its kind. On the same day the House voted, the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation told Ohio apple growers small-scale Estes scandals could be found in more than half the counties of their own state.

The cumulative impact of all these circumstances must have convinced a majority of congressmen it would be better to leave the situation as it is than to throw another hodgepodge of legislation on the already smelly heap.

No one in this country denies the acute need to find a way out of the farm crisis. But no one in this country has found a way out that can be sold to enough farmers and consumers and congressmen to put it into effect.

Until someone comes up with what at least appears to be a sound program and until a majority of the varied and vested agricultural interests in the nation are willing to support a sound program, it is better to leave bad enough alone.

he has been telling them for the last few years, that patient persuasion and quiet infiltration and indoctrination will conquer more of the world for communism than ever can be conquered against armed resistance.

He would throw light once more on the handicap of the noncommunist world; that it cannot sustain the kind of propaganda project required to influence masses of illiterate people of different races and religions.

He would clinch his case by inviting skeptics to take a long view of Marxism. He would show how the patience of Marxists, who believe time is in their favor, is matched with the impatience of non-Marxists, with the odds favoring patience. He would take pride—and justifiably so—in boasting that even Americans had begun to doubt time was on their side, so brilliantly had they been bamboozled by his propaganda.

And then most stridently of all he would hammer on the theme that the United States and its allies cannot cope with an absence of military action, because they can react but cannot act.

If Premier Khrushchev cackled a bit over the impression in the United States that Laos is a triumph because no fighting is in immediate prospect, he couldn't be blamed for enjoying himself. He wants the same thing there that the United States wants, but he wants it for a different reason. He wants to keep the Chinese out and the United States on the sidelines so he can prove co-existence works. The United States wants to keep the Chinese out and itself on the sidelines so it can prove its policy of intervention doesn't always mean war.

charge of an air conditioning manufacturing plant in wartime?"

Mr. Wampler, a former college debater and a keen administrator, had originally planned to be neither an investment banker nor a business executive. "I set out at the age of 22 to be a millionaire by 35, and I made it. My plan was to go into public plans," he said.

"I wanted to go into politics without doing a financial injustice to my family and so that I would be beholden to no man. But the depression suddenly made me not a millionaire, and by the time I made the second million. . . ." he shrugged. . . . "it was too late."

AS THE EXECUTIVE head of one of the world's largest air conditioning manufacturers, Mr. Wampler feels his main job is people. He figures that the right people should be given authority to discharge responsibilities. Then, all that's left for him is to watch results, which he does assiduously, and oversee general operations.

"You watch details, but you don't correct things. You point out shortcomings and let the man in charge do the correcting," he said.

Mr. Wampler's full business career has still left time for politics ("I gave three years of my life to the Republicans in 1940" to try to elect Wendell Willkie, and, like many businessmen these days, he is concerned over the present administration's policies).

"I was a Democrat but could not accept the philosophy of Franklin Delano Roosevelt," he said. He began to describe President Kennedy's attitude toward business as "bel-ligerent," then decided the word was too strong.

In politics, businessmen usually are willing to let other people do the work, he said. Today he finds "more people aware of the conflict that big government can have on our lives than before."

Some weeks ago President Kennedy personally pledged the next Supreme Court vacancy to Arthur J. Goldberg. This, it is expected, will come on the resignation of the 79-year-old Justice Felix Frankfurter. But, despite tradition, the next vacancy will go to the secretary of labor, whether or not it's a justice of the Jewish faith who creates the vacancy.

Victor Riesel

There is, of course, the enormous respect of the President for Mr. Goldberg's "judicial mind." But there is more. Few men have defended themselves as brutally, indefatigably for the White House on a turbulent front as has the labor secretary.

His home, once an almost nightly center of social and intellectual soirees, is virtually dark most of these evenings. He has delivered well over 187 speeches and has swung into over 50 labor crises in 17 months.

He has spent more than $40,000 of his own funds because of the meager federal traveling and per diem allowances.

ALL THIS could have been seen by a Boswell-type close observer. But what has not been noted are the many tension-filled secret meetings called by Mr. Goldberg to head off the most intense labor crises since the hot war turned cold back in '45.

At this moment, for example, the country faces a summer transportation tie-up of rails, of East and West Coast shipping of various airlines, of billions of dollars

Dear Ann Landers: You've made a great deal of trouble for me. I plan to be married in July. We can't have many outsiders to the wedding—just a handful of relatives and a few intimate friends.

I know several people who would be interested to learn of my marriage. I want to send them announcements. Inside Labor worth of construction and vital industrial and defense production.

On all this Mr. Goldberg is John Kennedy's account executive in charge of crises. Characteristically, the other day the President asked his labor secretary for an answer to the rash of multi-billion dollar construction strikes—some of which have been running since May 1.

In the midst of the flight engineers struggle, sans sleep, Goldberg called a secret session. He set it for 2 o'clock, Friday, June 15. For two hours, he, William Simkin, chief of the Federal Mediation Service, James Reynolds, "business representative" on the NLRB, and Undersecretary of Labor Willard Wirtz (who probably will succeed Goldberg) kicked around possible advice for the President.

THEY TALKED of wage freeze. But this would also mean a price freeze.

This sounded too drastic. So they talked of advising the President to warn the local unions of possible compulsory arbitration. The President might first urge the unions to go for voluntary arbitration. That is, when the dispute goes critical it should be turned over to an arbitrator whose decision would be final and binding. That sounded good.

It also was thought that some way should be found to give the national union chiefs greater control of their local leaders. The labor leaders in Washington are closer to the President and the Cabinet. They can be briefed.

It is the cadres in far-off construction areas that are in effect telling even the White House to stay out of their distant battles. In some cases the messages have been blunt and off color.

GOLDBERG will round up all this and talk it over with the President. Policy must be set soon in all fields. Few recall, for example, that Arthur Goldberg had barely been labor secretary 24 hours when he faced a tugboat strike in New York harbor. Those tugs are owned by 11 railroads. Not only was the harbor hit, but some of the lines were picketed and paralyzed by the Seafarers' Union.

Goldberg convinced the seamen to adjourn the strike and await a presidential board decision. The other day that decision came down against the tugboat workers.

Now there are new negotiations. But it is quite possible that this same harbor-rail strike may break out anew in a few weeks.

THE SAME UNION may shut off all shipping on the West Coast runs after July 1 in another dispute with the operators there.

Within the same time span the "on train" railroad workers may strike one or more railroads. Leaders of these workers too have been delaying their strike action because of a presidential board report. But they say that this report will cost them 80,000 jobs.

The rail lines state that most of these jobs are the offspring of featherbedding. The unions charge that the elimination of these jobs will endanger safety on the land's lines. In their private conferences they talk quite seriously of a rail strike.

If Arthur Goldberg can take the heat out of the summer crises, he will have earned more than a place on the high court—he will have proven himself a modern Solomon.

I think a brief note of this type is far warmer and more meaningful, Sara, than a formal, engraved invitation which reads "Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Renault Higenbotham the Third announce the marriage"—and so on.

Honest Answer?

Dear Ann: I'd like to give an honest answer to "Uneasy." It's more than YOU did. She's the young bride who wanted to know if her husband could be trusted overseas with "those loose foreign women."

Of course he can't. He'll be overwhelmed when he gets out of this country and discovers the wonderfully irresistible foreign female. Naturally he'll succumb. The flesh is weak, you know.

Foreign women treat love as a precious treasure—something natural and lovely. American women are either icebergs or sexpots, driven to promiscuity because of their neurotic drives.

Once an American man gets out of this country (alone, that is) his American wife never looks the same. So please level with that poor, dumb bride who signed herself "Uneasy." Tell her she

Attack on Kennedy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Priest Rips JFK on School Aid Discrimination

President Kennedy has just come under severe attack for supposedly having allowed political considerations to influence him in discriminating against the parents of seven million children who attend Catholic and other church-related schools in America. He is blasted as being a "political" not a constitutionalist.

This criticism is published in "Our Sunday Visitor," a Roman Catholic national weekly. Its editor, the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Joseph R. Crowley, made available over the weekend proof sheets of a lengthy article written by the Rev. Virgil Blum, S.J., chairman of the department of political science at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis.

Father Blum makes an extensive analysis of pending legislation and cites authorities to support his contention that federal aid to all schools for the teaching of nonreligious subjects is constitutional.

"Why then," asks Father Blum, "does the Kennedy administration insist on discriminating against the nation's independent school children? Why then do most congressmen refuse publicly to support equality of treatment and freedom of religion for all children in a federal aid-to-education bill?"

"The answer, it seems to me, is simple. President Kennedy, like the congressmen, is a politician. Politics is his basis of action. He is a political realist. Hence, political considerations, not constitutional, are the decisive factors in his education policy."

"POLITICS is the art of the possible. Kennedy fully realizes this. He could not have been elected on a platform which promised freedom of religion in education. So he ran on a platform which promised to discriminate against church-related schoolchildren. Assuming Kennedy believes in equality and freedom of religion in education, an unequivocal statement in support of these civil rights would have been political suicide.

"A large proportion of congressmen are faced by the same dilemma. They may be profoundly dedicated to freedom of religion in education, but feel they cannot openly support the civil rights of church-related schoolchildren. If they do, the opponents of freedom in education will shoot them down in the next election."

Father Blum discusses the "practicalities of politics" and points out that the present movement for civil rights for colored schoolchildren is stimulated by pressure groups who influence the voting. He calls, therefore, for the organization of pressure group throughout the country to get behind what he calls the "civil rights of independent children" numbering about 7 million.

He writes:

"Equal federal aid for every child! The U.S. Constitution permits it. . . . so say the nation's best constitutional lawyers. Among them, Prof. Paul Kauper of Michigan, Wilbur Katz of Wisconsin, Arthur Sutherland of Harvard, Philip Kurland of Chicago, William Ball of Villanova and Harry Jones of Columbia Universities. . . .

"There are more than 40 precedents for federal grants to parents for tuition payments in church-related schools. Each of these programs is valid, and each was adopted by a congress and president sworn to uphold the Constitution. . . .

"THE GI BILL of Rights is, of course, the best known precedent for federal aid for church-related schoolchildren. More than a million veterans paid tuition in 474 protestant, 265 catholic and five jewish institutions of higher education with federal grants.

"These veterans enjoyed freedom of choice: They were free to choose any college and to study any subject. Many veterans chose to study theology. More than 37,000 studied for the ministry with GI grants.

The war orphans educational assistance act is another precedent. Today, tens of thousands of war orphans are paying tuition in the nation's denominational colleges with federal education grants. . . .

"President Kennedy recently strongly urged the adoption of a vast federal scholarship program that would provide direct grants to hundreds of thousands of college students and, notably, direct schools of their choice.

"The President finds nothing unconstitutional about such grants to students, nor about cost-of-education grants to denominational schools. . . .

"If such direct grants with freedom of choice are legal on the college level, they are all the more legal on the elementary and secondary level. This was made emphatically clear by the U.S. Supreme Court in the Barnette case in 1943. Since children attend school under compulsion, said the court, the Constitution guarantees them greater freedom in education than college students whose attendance is optional."

FATHER BLUM for many years has been an outstanding advocate of tuition grants to parents as a way out of the dilemma of making public benefits available to children in parochial schools. Many persons, like the writer, are opposed to the principle of federal aid to education and believe the states should handle such matters. But what seems puzzling is that President Kennedy and others argue that it is constitutional to aid church-related colleges and yet it isn't valid to aid elementary and secondary schools which have a similar church relationship.

Consistency at least would seem to require that existing federal laws which extend aid to church-related institutions at the college level should either be broadened to include the lower schools or else all such laws should be declared unconstitutional or repealed by Congress.

1,000 Tunes Later

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—At 4 the little boy reached up and touched the piano keys, and the sound thrilled him.

At 6 he could play by ear, using both hands.

At 9 he was inventing melodies of his own.

And now, 1,000 tunes and 39 musical shows later, Richard Rodgers will be honored at a 60th birthday luncheon Thursday by cultural and civic leaders as one of the most popular composers in history.

This landmark in his life finds him busy as ever. Broadway lights beam his latest hit, "No Strings," for which he wrote both words and music. Rodgers and his latest collaborator, lyricist Jay Lerner, now are working on a new and a yet untitled show—his 40th.

"How do I feel?" asked Rodgers. "I feel ambivalent."

"I hate being 60 from a chronological viewpoint, but I'm proud of being 60 and still functioning at what I love best."

"It is nothing to do a thing at 30, 35 or 40. But it's nice to have a head at 60—and working on a new show."

His expression of habitual reserve broke into a wide, dark-eyed smile.

"It turns out that just because you were born in 1902, you're not necessarily just an old poop—at least I don't think I am."

"Inspiration with me isn't a matter of mood, but a matter of work and application," he said.

"If I have published a thousand melodies, I must have thrown away at least a third that many more. But that doesn't bother me. It's no trouble. There's always more.

Rodgers has been so creative that some people feel he must think in musical notes instead of words. He smiles at the idea.

"With me it's a matter of expressing in music what others express in prose, color or poetry," he said. "I don't really go around thinking in music—ever."

Of his own shows, he prefers "Carousel," which many critics also rate as his best. He has no favorite among his melodies because, "there are too many of them, and they mean too many different things to me."

"At 60 I don't feel at all that I've got it made. But I have no big unrealized ambitions."

"What I've tried to do is touch people—and when I have, that has been my biggest satisfaction."

This is Rodgers' philosophy in his own words:

"Have pleasure, give pleasure; avoid pain, and never knowingly give pain to others."

Columbiana To Hold Holiday Tennis Event

COLUMBIANA — Young area tennis players are invited to participate in a tournament to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Firestone Park July 4.

Chairman Doug Mann reports the contests will be divided into two classes, one for youths 13 to 15 years of age and another for those 16 to 18 in both boys and girls divisions. Trophies will be awarded.

Scientists Push Research for Skin 'Armor' Chemicals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army medical scientists are on the track of chemicals which may convert a soldier's skin into armor against disease-bearing insects and sunburn.

The research is especially important to military operations in Southeast Asia and other tropical areas where Western troops are vulnerable to certain types of fevers and strong sunlight.

The work is being done under a broad program aimed at giving each soldier entering a combat zone his own built-in shield against diseases, climate, and various kinds of stresses.

Dr. Marion B. Sulzberger of the Army's Medical Research and Development Command said a big effort is being made to discover special substances which would enter the skin after being swallowed or applied on the outside.

These substances, he said in a paper, would make the skin's surface and its secretions repellent to insects, flies, mosquitoes and ticks, which carry most of the important disease affecting military operation.

A major avenue of approach, the Army dermatologist said, is intensive study of the differences between skin of people who naturally attract insects and others whose body chemistry repels them.

For greater protection against sunburn, Sulzberger said, the goal is a chemical which will become incorporated in the skin's surface and enhance its capacity to filter out the burning rays.

A more remote prospect involves developing chemicals that would enable the skin to withstand the white-hot flash from a nuclear explosion.

Mrs. Huffman Receives Flower Judge Honor

One of Few In State To Be Accredited

Mrs. E. S. Huffman of the Franklin Road has reached the summit of her career as a flower arranger, teacher and judge. She can go no higher — there is no higher to go.

Mrs. Huffman, who has been associated with local, state and national flower organizations for a number of years, recently received word that she has been awarded a Masters Certificate as a nationally accredited flower show judge. The certificate is issued by the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

Mrs. Huffman is the only woman in Salem and one of a mere handful in the state to have attained the distinction.

In order to receive her certificate, Mrs. Huffman began studying in 1948. She attended bi-yearly classes (two days of school and one of exams) for the next three years, after which she became an Accredited Amateur Judge.

Amateur judges are required to attend refresher courses, similar to the first instructions, every three years. Two years ago she became a life member.

The classes were held in Youngstown and covered such subjects as gardening, horticulture, garden landscaping and flower arranging.

Her first step aimed directly at the Masters rating was in April of 1961 when she successfully completed an advanced course at Akron. The final test was in April of this year.

Mrs. Huffman related that flower arranging has always come naturally to her. "The first arrangement I entered won a blue ribbon," she said. She can't remember how long ago it was, but she knows it was in a Salem Garden Club contest.

Mrs. E. S. Huffman

She estimates, conservatively, that she has won more than 100 blue ribbons and many other second and third-place since that time.

Because she has received her certificate, Mrs. Huffman is no longer permitted to enter in amateur competitions, which will almost completely halt her competitive arranging. She is, however, permitted to display her work.

She won fourth place in the national flower arranging contest held at Portland, Ore., in 1948.

Mrs. Huffman said that her new status could take her out of the state, if she wanted it to, but she prefers to "stay at home and enjoy life."

Mrs. Huffman holds classes at her home once a month. She said she usually has one group for about six months at a time and has been teaching "off and on for several years."

She is a member of the Salem Flower Club, of which she was president in 1954-55, and a member of the Herbs Society of America. She also was a member of the Rose Society of America for two years.

The Social Notebook

DESCENDANTS OF LeROY and Sarah Field Beery held a reunion Saturday at the home of Kenneth and Sarah Beery Kelly of Alliance.

Fifty-one relatives were present from Salem, Lorain, Alliance, Leetonia, Warren and Boardman. The family enjoyed a picnic dinner and games.

ROSEMARY GOETZ, who will become the bride of John S. McClish Saturday at St. Paul's Church, was honored recently at a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Mary Holroyd of Salem-Warren Rd. The lace-covered table was decorated with a centerpiece of yellow and red roses with miniature bride and bridesmaid dolls.

Prizes were won by Carol and Elaine Haus, Mrs. James Hippley and Mrs. Edwin McClish. Miscellaneous gifts were presented to the honoree.

MISS DORIS TETLOW presented two piano solos, "The Green Cathedral," and "Trees," when members of the Bethlehem Class of the First Methodist Church met Thursday in the Music Room of the church for a dessert luncheon.

The table was centered with an arrangement of tea roses. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. James Goodwin and Mrs. Fred Horstman. Answer to roll call was "What Good Deed I Have Done Today."

Mrs. Willis Hole presented devotions, and Mrs. A. C. Frethy presided at the business meeting. The class voted to donate a sum of money to the Salvation Army to assist with its summer camp project.

Mrs. William Tetlow told of her recent trip through upper New York State. The group will have a covered dinner July 19 at 12:30 p.m. in the church when hostesses will be Mrs. Tetlow and Mrs. Harry Reitzel. Mrs. Ross Helman will be in charge of the program.

THE 42ND ANNUAL reunion of the Humphrey family was held Sunday at the New Garden Methodist Church, with President Karl Humphrey in charge.

A picnic dinner in the basement of the church was enjoyed by 102 relatives and friends.

Relatives were present from Riverside, Calif., West Hempstead, N. Y., Champaign, Ill.; Belle Fontaine, Dela., and Lakewood, Shreve, Alliance, Homeworth, Salem, Leetonia, Hanoverton and Winona.

The 1963 reunion will be held at the same place the fourth Sunday in June. Richard Humphrey will serve as president and Barbara Humphrey, secretary.

A STORK SHOWER in honor of Mrs. W. T. Dick was given by the women of the First Assembly of God Church at Diehl Lake clubhouse Friday evening with about 45 women present.

After group singing led by Mrs. George Adams, prayer and scripture were given by Mrs. Emory Barnes, general chairman.

Cad tables were decorated with crepe paper booties and nut dishes. The gift table was covered with yellow and white streamers which held a sprinkling can in the middle of the table. A stork holding a baby over a small basin was placed beneath the sprinkling can. Yellow candles in white holders graced the sides.

The women made baby bonnets out of crepe paper for one of the

Mrs. Stanley Corell was presiding officer, and Mrs. Jack Hovis was in charge of the program. Mrs. Nellie Pate assisted the hostess with serving refreshments.

Unusual Flower Attraction at Mathey Residence

A "rose" that blooms in the moonlight, smells like a lemon, looks like a dandelion when coming up, and has flowers shaped like a morning glory is a current attraction each evening at dusk at the home of Mrs. Glen Mathey of Duck Creek Rd., RD 1.

The moon rose, now in bloom, has had as many as 83 yellow flowers open at one time on the four-foot high bush.

The blossoms are ephemeral, lasting only one night. A new wave of blooms takes the withered blossoms' place each night. The opening takes about 30 minutes.

The foliage dies down in the fall and the plant emerges again each spring, resembling a dandelion while young. Mrs. Mathey has never seen fruit or seeds on the plant which she obtained from Robert Mathey of Washingtonville, her husband's uncle.

Home Rebekahs Mark Anniversary

The 84th anniversary of Home Rebekah Lodge was observed when members of the lodge met recently in the Odd Fellows Hall. "Hands Clasp'd Across the Border" was read by Mrs. Marion DeBow, in honor of International Goodwill Day.

A program commemorating Father's Day was presented as follows: "What is a Boy?" read by Mrs. John Nestor; "When Pa Begins to Shave," Mrs. Edith Bailey, a skit, "A Little Boy's Problem," by Mrs. Evas Lipp and Mrs. John McCormick, and "Putting in a Garden," and "Mower Power to Me," read by Mrs. John Schuster.

Those with birthdays in June and July were honored, and a report of a recent project was given by Mrs. Evas Lipp.

The organization will recess until September.

Miss Bush Honored At Bridal Shower

Miss Carren Bush, who will become the bride of Melvin Bowen July 7 in Greenford Lutheran Church, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Wednesday evening by her aunt, Mrs. Lewis Brown of Greenford.

Gifts were placed on a pink linen covered table under a pink umbrella.

Each guest embroidered her signature on a tea towel which was presented to the bride-to-be.

Games were played and refreshments served by the hostess. Miss Bush is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bush of Greenford and Mr. Bowen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowen Sr. of Columbiana.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Jesse Lentz Strickland of Long Beach, Calif., has returned home after visiting her cousins, Mrs. Louise Herbert of the Alliance-Salem Road and Mrs. Doris Scullion of E. 3rd St. She attended the 50th reunion of the 1912 Salem High School graduation class while she was here.

Greenford School District Fears Loss In Needed Funds

The Greenford School District will lose more than $40,000 in anticipated funds during the next year, it was disclosed at the regular meeting of the Greenford Board of Education recently.

About $20,000 of this amount will be cut from the State Foundation Funds, starting Jan. 1, 1963, due to the high evaluation in Green Township following the Mahoning County re-appraisal. The remaining amount will be due to millage reduction in the county.

With the board faced with increased costs, higher enrollment and a reduced budget for the 1962-63 school year, the board voted to join with various school boards in Mahoning County to hire the law firm of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey of Cleveland.

The law firm will represent the schools and take necessary legal measures to protect the interest of the Green Local School District in the recent re-appraisal suit in Mahoning County.

In other board action, three new teachers were hired for the new school term. Those hired for the year are as follows:

Mrs. Lois Ake of Youngstown will teach English and social studies. She has been teaching for 14 years; Miss Patricia Hopkins, a graduate of Otterbein College, will teach instrumental music; and Al Carrino of Youngstown will take over the head coaching job in football and teach science. (Full story on sports page).

Miss Hopkins is moving to Greenford this week and is planning to give free instrumental music lessons at Greenford School during July and August. All interested parents and students are urged to stop at the school on Monday, July 2, to arrange for lessons.

The board will meet on July 12 at 8:30 p.m. for its next meeting.

tionality of federal aid to church schools.

Evangelist Billy Graham said of the decision: "This is another step toward the secularization of the United States. Followed to its logical conclusion, we will have to take the chaplains out of the armed forces, prayers can not be said in Congress, and the President can not put his hand on the Bible when he takes the oath of office. The framers of the Constitution meant we were to have freedom of religion, not freedom from religion."

In New York, Francis Cardinal Spellman said he was shocked and frightened.

"The decision strikes at the very heart of the godly tradition in which America's children have for so long been raised," he declared.

AGVA

Some lower echelon union officials admitted that none of them had ever enforced union contracts against such rackets.

He denied that any of the alleged abuses had occurred with his knowledge or consent.

Cities Are Charged With Violations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Civil service commissions in nine Ohio cities have violated state civil service laws, the Ohio Public Employees Union charged Monday in a hearing before the State Personnel Board of Review.

A spokesman said the board will study a transcript of the hearing before making a decision in the charges against commissions in Canton, Bellefontaine, Marion, Mansfield, Springfield and East Liverpool.

The hearing was requested by the union's Council 8 after 170 public employees in Canton were fired earlier this year when Mayor James Lawhun Jr. took office.

The union charged that public employees in the nine cities are not being hired according to civil service rules and regulations. It contends those commissions in some cases have failed to establish job classifications, eligibility lists and layoff procedures.

Democratic Senators Plan Action on Medical Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders reported today they are going through with plans to start action in the Senate chamber on the Kennedy administration medical care program now stalled in a House committee.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the ranking Senate Democrat, told newsmen after he and other party leaders in Congress had breakfast with President Kennedy that the move will be made the end of this week.

Mansfield said there probably would be additions to the administration measure, along the line of bringing in the Blue Cross as an administering body and providing coverage for elderly persons not on the Social Security rolls.

The administration bill would finance medical care for men and women over 65 through the Social Security taxes.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, Senate sponsor of the legislation, said last week he would try to attach it as an amendment to some other bill pending in the Senate. He also suggested the possibility of letting the Blue Cross system handle the care of several million persons who never got into the Social Security system.

The leadership report bore out speculation that the administration would make changes in its program in an effort to attract support from wavering Congress members and would concentrate on the Senate as a springboard for putting the bill in motion.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said the strategy does not mean the leadership has given up on the possibility of getting action in the House Ways and Means Committee, where the bill is snagged in controversy. He said the House can take concurrent action.

Police said Lawrence Burcaw, 20, was driving the car which was stopped for a red traffic light on W. State when it was struck from behind by an auto operated by Nancy C. Lawyer's Story Contradicts Testimony In Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawyer Frank Cain repeated today testimony about a mid-March meeting with Billie Sol Estes that contradicted the story told by Maynard C. Wheeler, president of Commercial Solvents Corp.

Cain, in testimony prepared for the House Government Operations subcommittee, told essentially the same story that he related to a Texas court of inquiry in April about a breakfast meeting at Estes' Pecos, Tex., home.

Wheeler told a sharply different version to the committee June 13 and called Cain's Texas testimony "false and defamatory" and "slander of the most vicious kind."

Cain is a Dallas attorney representing finance companies which had loaned money to Estes. Wheeler's firm also gave Estes extensive credit, for purchase of fertilizer and a start in the grain storage business.

Cain touched on all the essential points of his statement in Texas, without any major changes.

This establishes a direct conflict of testimony under oath which subcommittee counsel James Naughton says is likely to reach the Justice Department for study of possible perjury charges.

Naughton, however, says the committee is interested only in finding the truth, not in having anybody prosecuted for perjury.

Estes, 37, a West Texas financier, is under indictment for fraud and his holdings are in receivership.

He is also on trial in Pecos, Tex., on a state charge of felony theft in the sale of liquid fertilizer tanks.

Cain testified in Texas that during the meeting with Estes, Wheeler said, "If Billie gets too involved, we can always use him as a consultant in Switzerland."

Cain added, "Billie spoke up and said, 'Well, I think Brazil will be better.'"

He said Wheeler "dropped several names" of high Agriculture Department officials and said "If we have to, why we can step in here and take the place of Billie. We can keep those tanks full, too."

Wheeler denied saying any of the things.

Estes had assigned payments for surplus grain storage to Commercial Solvents as collateral for loans and when arrested, he owed the company more than $5 million.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN
Questions And Answers

Q—Is it good practice to drink sassafras tea in the spring for general health or for any other benefits? If so, what is the best way to prepare it?

A—So far as is known, there is no evidence that sassafras tea is useful as anything other than a flavoring agent. I believe the flavor is employed in commercial root beer, so why bother to brew it yourself?

Q—We have been hearing of a new treatment for alcoholism that requires only the prescription of an enzyme. Can you tell us more about it and where we can get it?

A—You probably refer to a co-enzyme best identified by its initials, DPN. Actually DPN does not attack the problem of alcoholism at its roots. It merely contains niacin a member of the vitamin B complex. In the alcoholic who suffers a niacin deficiency, the co-enzyme simply participates in the reaction that ends with the oxidation of alcohol. Hence it does nothing of significance for the alcoholic who has no vitamin deficiency. And, even in the niacin-deficient alcoholic, it accomplishes little of importance.

Q—Because my wife has extensive tuberculosis, we were advised to have her Fallopian tubes tied after birth of our second child a year ago. Since then she has been depressed and cranky, even with the children. Could this be a result of the operation? And, if so, can the operation be undone? A—To answer the second question first, the operation can be undone. But it would seem very unwise, in view of your wife's infection, to subject her to a procedure that involves another exploration of the abdominal cavity. Especially is this unwise since it is unlikely that the tubal operation has anything to do with her depressed state.

A recent study of 462 women who had had tubal ligations in the Boston Lying-In Hospital disclosed the fact that only about 20 per cent expressed regret at what had been done and none suffered any significant disturbance as a result of the operation. Since your wife has a serious infection and must be taking various anti-tuberculous drugs, it's more likely that these circumstances, rather than the operative procedure, account for her reactions.

THE SIGN THAT SAYS: IT'S MODERN!

Practically all new homes are heated with GAS . . . now, more and more are enjoying GAS air conditioning. Think of cozy-cool sleep through the hottest nights . . . carefree cooking in a comfortably cooled kitchen . . . a mood of living that stays bright and happy because the whole family feels better. That's what you get with GAS central air conditioning.

And you'll be pleasantly surprised to learn that GAS air conditioning costs less than you might have thought. You'll wonder why you've been without it for so long.

The purchase and installation cost of a central GAS heating-cooling system in a new home can be financed with the mortgage, for a very modest increase in payments. Planning to remodel? Consider having a GAS add-on air conditioning unit installed in your present GAS forced air heating system. You can probably use the existing heating ductwork for cooling to get added installation economies. And for convenience you can finance the whole job through the Gas Company, and pay for it along with your regular gas bill.

If you are planning to buy or build a new home or to remodel your present home, find out about GAS air conditioning. You'll want it! You can afford it! Call your Gas Company for a free air conditioning survey.

Medinah Course Poses Challenge to Pros

Practice Underway For Western Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf's big dealers began practice today for the Western Open over the timbered acreage of the Medinah No. 3 course and none was expected to do much bragging about his scores. Those who faced the expanse of traps and broad greens at Oakmont in the National Open now are bucking a wandering 7,110 yards cut through enough forest land to make a lumberjack drool. Par To Be Scarce Par 36-35-71 on the rugged layout isn't going to take much of a beating, and many a player would settle for something like 281 to take the championship when the 72-hole meet ends Sunday. The last big tournament on the so-called "monster course" was the 1949 National Open won by Cary Middlecoff with 286 on rounds of 75-67-69-75. The 67 still remains the course record.

Although Jack Nicklaus and the man he defeated in a playoff for the National Open June 17, Arnold Palmer, share the favorite's role, some of the lesser power-hitters may find the course more to their liking. Important Shot From Tees "Maneuverability off the tees is required more than distance," says Medinah pro Jack Bell. "And the most important shots will be from the tees. I don't see this tournament as a putting contest. A player must maneuver the ball from right to left, or left to right. There are eight doglegs that demand precision spotting from the tees to set up second shots." The 59th Western Open will start Thursday with a field of 136 players Nicklaus and Palmer will be in competition against each other for the first time since the National Open.

Odom's, Stepanic's Oppose 'Stars

All-Stars Selected; Games Thursday

Coaches and managers recently selected the Class A and AA All-Star teams that will battle Odom's Sobio and Stepanic's Tavern in the annual All-Star games scheduled for Thursday at Kelley Park. League-leading Odom's will open the three-game card at 6:30 p.m. against the 'A' All-Stars and Stepanic's will follow at 7:45 against the 'AA' All-Stars. Currently Odom's is 9-3 on the season in 'A' action while Stepanic's leads the 'AA' league also with a 9-3 record. Both teams held first place in the respective leagues after the first round and are still in the top position. The third encounter of the evening will pit the state champion Wooster Lumber Girls against the Hubbard All-Stars at 9. Wooster features Janet Reeder of Salem while Hubbard boasts Salem High School girls physical education instructor, Betty McKenna. The Class 'A' Stars will be man-

Archie Moore, Pastrano Bout Seen In Future

By ED TUNSTALL NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A return match between Willie Pastrano and "big daddy" Archie Moore had New Orleans boxing promoters buzzing today with more "ifs" involved than an American-Russian agreement on Berlin. Pastrano, a product of the New Orleans French Market who now lives in Miami Beach, came home for the first time in six years and earned an easy 10-round decision over willing but outgunned Irish Billy Ryan Monday night. "Man, I just gotta fight Moore again," Pastrano said in the dressing room. "I just want to fight, but I gotta get another shot at Moore. He's the big daddy, you know. And that's where the money is." Promoter Bonny Geigerman admitted a Pastrano-Moore fight would be a knockout at the gate in New Orleans. But he conceded there were a lot of problems to hurdle. First and foremost would be the segregation question. There hasn't been a mixed match in New Orleans in too many years to count, but there seems to be a slackening of resistance.

Summer Cage Entering Deadline Set For Thursday

The deadline for entering teams in the Summer Basketball League is 6 p.m. Thursday, Tom Butler, Salem Parks and Recreation assistant announced today. The schedule for the first round of action will be made up after the deadline, Butler said, and will be available at the Memorial Building and at the Centennial Park Pool Friday afternoon. So far six teams have entered the league and they include, Tom's Sunoco, Spack's Specs, Gord's Bear Cats, Bosdick's Bombers and Jerry Shaffer. No teams will be allowed to enter the league after the deadline, Butler disclosed.

AFL Discusses Expansion

N. Orleans, Atlanta, K.C. Possible Sites

BOSTON (AP)—Representatives of groups from Atlanta, New Orleans and Kansas City meet with American Football League club owners today to discuss expansion of the professional game into one or two of the cities. All three groups have put up or pledged $25,000 to show good faith. All insist they have the $360,000 needed for players and have promises of reaching the 20,000-ticket sale goal set for new entries. The owners voted Monday to try out a "sudden death" overtime period to dissolve tie games during the 1962 exhibition series. Even if successful, however, the overtime period, which gives the victory to the first team to score, would not be used in regular league games this fall. The league also extended its trading deadline from three to six weeks after the start of play.

Reds, Dodgers Fall; Yanks Gain 2-0 Victory

By The Associated Press Lindy McDaniel, a workhorse right-hander rapidly reaffirming his position as one of the acknowledged leaders of baseball's relief pitchers union, may be just about ready to hoist his placard and campaign for a shorter work week. Continuing his comeback, the St. Louis Cardinals' relief ace trudged out of the bullpen Monday for his third appearance in four days, blanked Chicago on two singles for the final 3-2-3 innings and preserved a 6-4 victory over the Cubs. The "Fireman of the Year" in 1960 with a 12-4 record and a 2.09 earned run average in 65 games, the 26-year-old McDaniel slipped to 10-6 last year as his ERA ballooned to 4.88. He got off to a slow start this season, but in his last 10 outings has been virtually untouchable. During that stretch, McDaniel has allowed only nine hits and has not yielded a walk, keeping the opposition from scoring for 23 1-3 innings and lowering his ERA to an outstanding 2.37. The triumph was the fifth in seven games for the fourth-place Cards and moved them within 6 1/2 games of National League leading Los Angeles, beaten by Milwaukee 6-4. San Francisco crept to within a half-game of the Dodgers by whipping Cincinnati 3-1 behind Billy O'Dell's five-hitter, and third-place Pittsburgh clobbered the New York Mets 13-3 to pull within 5 1/2 of the top. Philadelphia edged Houston 4-3. Hank Aaron got the job done for the Braves, hitting a two-run homer in the sixth before his seventh inning single capped a three-run uprising and drove in the run that sent the Dodgers down to their fourth loss in the last five games. Tommy Davis went 5-for-3 for Los Angeles with a double and four singles, tying for the league batting lead with Stan Musial of the Cards at .342. The triumph went to Carl Willey (1-3). Ron Perranoski (3-2) took the loss. The Cubs moved ahead of the Cards in the third when Ernie Banks tied for the league home run lead with the Giants' Willie Mays by tagging his 21st, with two on. St. Louis battled back, finally cracking a 3-3 tie in the sixth with two runs on a double by Ken Boyer, Carl Sawatski's triple and a wild pitch by loser Glen Hobbie (1-0). The Cubs put men on first and third in the bottom half but McDaniel came on to get Lou Brock and Ken Hubbs on force plays to end the threat and save it for Ray Washburn (5-3). O'Dell (8-6) allowed the Reds only singles, and an unearned run in the third inning when Marty Keough singled after Harvey Glenn dropped Wally Moon's fly for a two-base error. It was the third consecutive low-hit complete game triumph for the Giants' staff. Willie Mays broke a 1-1 tie in the third, reaching base on a fielders' choice, taking second on Willie McCovey's single, stealing third despite a pitchout and crossing on Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly, off Jim Maloney (2-2). Smoky Burgess pounded Met hurlers for a triple, double and single, driving in four runs as the Pirates lashed 15 hits in support of Vern Law (5-3). Roberto Clemente, with three singles, and Don Hoak each knocked in three runs as Law scattered eight hits and came within one strikeout of tying the club record. He fanned 11, most in his 10-year major league career. The loser was Craig Anderson (3-7). Tony Taylor hit his third single with one out in the last of the ninth, sending Bob Wine home from second with the winning run for the Phillies. Reliever Dallas Gree (2-2) won it with one-hit relief over the four innings and Hal Woodeshick (2-5) lost it. Roman Mejias hit home run No. 19 for Houston.

their way to a 2-0 victory at Detroit Monday in the American League's only game, following up that historic triumph over the Tigers in Sunday's seven-hour 22-inning marathon. But even in winning, all was not rosy for the woe-ridden defending league champions. Ford, just coming back from a bout with shoulder trouble, failed to finish a magnificent performance. Complaining of pain in the upper part of his pitching arm, the stocky southpaw left the field with one out in the ninth after limiting the Tigers to two hits. Marshall Bridges finished, giving up one more h before nailing down the shutout. Yankee manager Ralph Houk presented an all right-handed batting order against Detroit lefty Don Mossi and in the process benched Maris for the first time in his six-year big league career. Houk insisted the move was made to rest Maris, not because of his .243 batting average and low lunging production, and later inserted him as a defensive replacement for Mantle in right field in the ninth inning. Mantle, put out of action for four weeks by a torn thigh muscle and knee injury, started in the outfield for the fifth straight game. He singled once in four trips.

Successful Summer Meeting Expected At Waterford Park

WATERFORD PARK — Never before in the history of Waterford Park has there been such an impressive roster of horsemen ready to race their thoroughbreds during the summer meeting as there is this year. With the opening only one week away, Monday, July 2, Racing Secretary and Resident Harry R. Bell reports that every available stall has been allotted and all indications point to one of the greatest racing seasons ever experienced at West Virginia's only one-mile race course. It is estimated that by the time the first bugle blows at 4:15 Monday afternoon there will be at least 1000 horses on the grounds, the greatest number ever to assemble here for a summer meeting. RONALD FISHER, custodian of the jock's room here and at Wheeling Downs, reports that some of the nation's best riders will be seen in action at Waterford Park during the ensuing meeting, in fact, three of the boys who have checked in with him are well up in the national standings so far this year. Post time is set at 4:15 on weekdays and 2:00 p.m. on Saturdays except for Independence Day and Labor Day when a twin bill will be presented with the first program starting at 10:30 a. m. Ed Charles, third baseman for the Kansas City Athletics, hit 13 homers and batted .305 for Vancouver, B.C., last season.

NOT ONLY IS THE list of owners and trainers an impressive one, the thoroughbred colony itself is of the highest caliber ever gathered at this Northern Panhandle track. Horses that have campaigned in every sector of the country are included in the list. Each day finds a steady stream of vans pouring in with their precious cargos from New England, Omaha, St. Louis, New York State, Maryland, Detroit, Ohio, Kentucky and as far west as Ari-

Tribe Trails Detroit In Season Series 4-3

DETROIT (AP) — The league-leading Cleveland Indians, still nursing a 1 1/2-game margin in the American League, take on the Detroit Tigers in a two - night doubleheader tonight. The Indians are looking to get even with Detroit, the one team in the league they trail in the season series. The Tigers have won four out of seven over the Indians. Pedro Ramos (4-4) is scheduled to pitch one game for manager Mel McGaha's crew. Either Ruben Gomez (0-1) or Bob Hartman (0-0), recently purchased from Louisville, will go in the other contest. The Tigers are sending Jim Bunning (6-4) and Sam Jones (0-1) to the mound. If Hartman starts he will become the first left-hander to open for the Indians since Sam McDowell lasted six innings against Detroit May 20. The Detroit series closes Wednesday night when Dick Donovan (11-2) pitches for the Tribe. Then the Indians travel to Chicago for a four-game set, return home for a single game with Baltimore and seven games with the Tigers and White Sox. Then comes the first All-Star game

Gals Show 'Backs' In Wimbledon Play

By JOHN GALE WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The ladies took the court today in the 76th Wimbledon Tennis Championships, which may be remembered as the tournament of the backless top. Not since Gussie Moran's lace panties startled the Wimbledon throngs in 1949 has there been so much advance excitement about the female form. Gals Expose Backs Gussie's flippant finery was designed by Teddy Tintling. The same man is behind the latest revolution in fashion, which will drop backs revealingly, exposing a good deal more of the female figure than can easily be remembered in these parts. Maria Bueno of Brazil, twice the women's titleholder, has a dress plunging at the rear to within an inch of her tiny waist. Hemlines, Tintling reported, will be about six inches above the knee—which is some five inches higher than in Miss Moran's day. Pleats are on this year, ruffled ribbons are in. The ladies opened their Wimbledon campaign with Margaret Smith of Australia a firm favorite to clinch the singles title on her second attempt. The holder of the Australia, Italian and French Championships has been beaten only once this year — by Carole Caldwell of Santa Monica, Calif.

Old Dutch Grabs 2nd Place In 'AA'; Stepanic's Wins 2-1

Old Dutch climbed into second place in the Class AA League by scoring a 1-0 victory over Lincoln Machine on Dick Youngpeter's homer in the sixth inning while league-leading Stepanic's kept sailing along with a nar-

Machine encounter developed into a pitcher's duel between Glen Mercer of the winners and Bob Shoff of the losers. Both teams battled to a scoreless tie before Old Dutch tallied in the top of the sixth on Youngpeter's blast.

Youngpeter paced the seven-hit Old Dutch attack with three hits and was followed by Bob Stall-smith with two safeties. Lincoln Machine, which has dropped four of its last five games, managed only three hits off Mercer with Jack Jackson rapping a double to feature for the losers.

Stepanic's handed Purity its tenth consecutive setback after two opening victories.

The winners scored first with Benny Roelen leading off the first inning with a double. Two successive errors brought Roelen home with the run.

PURITY TIED THE count in the fourth frame on a single by Jim Cranston and a double by Wayne Walters.

Back-to-back triples by Dougherty and Roelen, in the top of the seventh canto, eked out the win for Stepanic's.

Leading Ohio Car Insurer Offers Discount Plans, New Benefits

New Feature Cuts Reasons Company Can Cancel Before Normal Expiration Of Policy

Responding to the long-felt need for a form of guaranteed driving protection, Nationwide has added an important new benefit to its private passenger auto policies in the state. This exclusive "non-cancelable" provision, effective automatically for most present Nationwide policyholders at no extra charge, limits the reasons why the company may cancel liability and medical expense coverages before normal expiration date.

in Ohio, liability and medical expense coverages that have been in force for more than 60 days may be revoked during the policy's term only for the following reasons: non-payment of premium, fraudulent claims statement, and driving while under the influence of alcohol or narcotics. Three reasons that make sense, you'll agree.

Family Compensation

Another advanced benefit, exclusive with Nationwide in Ohio, is the Family Compensation Coverage. This unique feature pays daily disability and death benefits; hospital and medical bills (within policy limits) for accident injuries to you, your family, or occupants of your car. In many cases, others injured by your car are also protected—no matter who's at fault.

Satisfied Customers

Proof of policyholder satisfaction is revealed by the company's high rate of renewals. According to official records over 90% of all Nationwide policyholders renew their coverage each year.

PEACE OF MIND—with Nationwide car insurance. Where ever you travel this summer—beach, picnic grounds or cross-country—your Nationwide policy provides the most complete auto coverage available today.

Fast Claims Service With Local Drive-In Stations

With more than 1,500 experienced claimsmen stationed throughout the U.S. and Canada, Nationwide has a record of fast claims payment to be proud of. For example, over half of all Nationwide auto claims are paid within 24 hours after proof of loss—two-thirds under 72 hours.

In Many Major Cities

One reason for this prompt service is Nationwide's network of Drive-In Claims stations, now located in many major cities. When a Nationwide policyholder in one of these cities has an accident, he simply phones his agent to arrange for inspection at the Drive-In station. Then he drives in, has his damage checked, and is on his way with our check in hand—usually within a few minutes—to have his car repaired.

Eleven In Ohio

In Ohio, Nationwide has Drive-In Claims stations in Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Lorain, Mansfield, Toledo, Warren and Youngstown, and several more stations are scheduled to be opened within the coming months.

Nationwide's Discounts Can Mean Savings To Thousands Of Policyholders In State

Nationwide Insurance of Columbus, insurer of over 600,000 Ohio drivers, recently announced liberalized insurance benefits and savings to its Ohio auto policyholders.

Through a unique system of discounts, it is possible for a car owner to realize cumulative savings of more than 20% over the company's regular low rates. These discounts include: "second car" discounts, which apply to each of two or more cars insured with Nationwide, plus special discounts for compact cars. Further savings are possible in the case of a "youthful trained driver"—a driver under 25 years of age who has successfully completed an accredited course of driving instruction.

Long A Leader

For many years the favorite with Ohio drivers, Nationwide is known as a pioneer in developing new, needed forms of protection. One reason is to be found in the company's origin—its founding in 1926 by a small group of Ohioans who formed their own car insurance company to get the protection they needed at rates they could afford.

One Of Largest

Now the world's second largest mutual auto insurer in number of cars insured, Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co. remains dedicated to the long-standing principle of providing careful drivers with the finest possible protection at the lowest possible cost.

Full details on how Nationwide makes your auto premium dollar go farther may be obtained from the Nationwide representative in your community. Contact him at your earliest convenience. He's listed in the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory.

Century Policy Provides Broadest Coverage Today

Nationwide's Century auto policy, specifically developed to meet the requirements of modern driving risks and hazards, is the most complete auto protection package offered in the United States today. While its cost is amazingly low, there is no finer coverage available anywhere at any price.

Its new, comprehensive, collision and liability coverages include a combination of valuable protection features offered by no other insurance company. Yet the Century's flexibility allows it to be tailored exactly to your individual driving needs.

The Century also offers expanded Comprehensive Family Liability—a Nationwide "first". This feature protects you and your family from legal liability from non-auto accidents.

Family Compensation Coverage is also part of the Century. This exclusive feature provides disability and death benefits and covers certain hospital and medical bills, should you, your family or occupants of your car suffer accident injuries. In many cases, others injured by your car are also protected, no matter who's at fault.

For a feature-by-feature explanation of Nationwide's Century auto insurance policy, simply call your local Nationwide agent. His name, address and phone number are listed in your Yellow Pages. There's no obligation, of course.
